

Meredith Berkman has been a columnist writing for publications including the New York Post, Newsday, and Ladies Home Journal. She has covered a wide range of topics including politics, sports, and parenting. A former celebrity journalist for Entertainment Weekly and editor at New York Magazine, she is a graduate of Brown University and the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. She is a trustee of the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, serves on the board of the Brown University Hillel, and is a member of Brown's Women's Leadership Council.